

EDWARD P. WERNER BECOMES HEAD OF THE WERNER WORKS

Edward P. Werner has been appointed general superintendent of the Werner works. While Mr. Werner is the son of the head of the great enterprise, his promotion is in no way due to that fact, but is owing entirely to his own merit. He entered the employ of this concern in a subordinate capacity some years ago and by hard work has passed from one promotion to an-	other, each of which was earned strictly on merit. Mr. Werner is still a very young man and yet it is said that he is the only superintendent of any publishing house in the country who has mastered the practical details of each and every department of the business. C. B. Denaple, whose health would no longer permit his retaining the superintendency, remains with the Werner company as mechanical superintendent.
