

---

George S. Heath, who joined the United States Army and was sent to the Phillipines is back again on his native soil. His command is now stationed at Fort Douglass, Salt Lake City, Utah. He expects to return to civil life when his term of enlistment ends which will be soon.

---