

new face. "I was (said he) already familiar with the old settlers

Don't let him be able to count the new faces with which he shall become familiar during this term.

The teachers are endeavouring to fix matters in such shape, as to make it customary for the patrons to visit the schools often.

The children of the primary dept, - gave us so many and such good little recitations, that our time will not allow us to mention them separately, all did well for so little practice as they have had; Maud Heath spoke "The old kitchen floor" in a manner that touched more than one mothers heart.

Among Prof, Price's scholars we were favored with select readings by Miss Gharst. Misses Lora Wait, and Etta Mc Laughlan, also an excellent recitation
