

Patricia, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Heath, who was very painfully injured when her arm was caught in a clothes wringer, is quite ill from the effects and is still in a serious condition.